

Abbreviated Instruction to Authors

The instructions below are an abbreviated form of the Instructions to Authors for Saudi Medical Journal. Prior to submission, authors are requested to visit our website where the full instructions and guidelines for authors, together with the the Uniform Requirements and STARD checklist can be found:

(<http://www.smj.org.sa/authorinfo.asp>)

Manuscripts that do not conform with the Instructions to Authors maybe subject to delay.

The Saudi Medical Journal is a peer-reviewed, monthly publication. Authors are invited to submit for publication articles with a wide spectrum of coverage reporting original work, epidemiology, public health, indigenous disease and standards of health care from all parts of the globe. Review articles are usually by invitation only. However, Review articles of current interest and high standard will be considered. Prospective work should not be back dated. There are also sections for Case Reports, Brief Communication, Correspondence and medical news items.

Submission of Manuscripts: Manuscripts, or the essence of their content, must be previously unpublished and should not be under simultaneous consideration by another journal. The authors should also declare if any similar work has been submitted to or published by another journal. They should also declare that it has not been submitted/published elsewhere in the same form, in English or in any other language, without the written consent of the Publisher. The authors should also declare that the paper is the original work of the author(s) and not copied (in whole or in part) from any other work. All papers will be automatically checked for duplicate publication and plagiarism. If detected, appropriate action will be taken in accordance with International Ethical Guidelines. By virtue of the submitted manuscript, the corresponding author acknowledges that all the co-authors have seen and approved the final version of the manuscript. The corresponding author should provide all co-authors with information regarding the manuscript, and obtain their approval before submitting any revisions. Manuscripts are only accepted for publication on the understanding that the authors will permit editorial amendments, though proofs will always be submitted to the corresponding author before being sent finally to press. To avoid any delay in processing manuscripts, prior to submission, all authors should refer to the STARD checklist for reporting of diagnostic accuracy studies, and comply with the guidelines. A link to the STARD checklist can be found on our website - www.smj.org.sa. Prior to the initial submission of a new manuscript, please carefully consider that all authors names are included as no change to authors details will be permitted after the initial submission.

Electronic submission of Manuscripts: Manuscripts can now be submitted electronically via the journals website (www.smj.org.sa) by clicking Submit manuscript and registering to the website. However, Figures and Illustrations should be provided in jpeg format (resolution 300 DPI) or authors may be asked to submit the illustrations on glossy paper whenever necessary. Titles and detailed explanations belong in the legends for illustrations (on a separate sheet), not on the illustrations themselves. The Journal will assume that informed consent for publication has been obtained from all identifiable subjects. Upon acceptance of the manuscript for publication, authors are required to provide the original copy of the assignment of copyright dully signed by all authors.

Manuscript Preparation: Manuscripts including tables, references and figure legends, must be typewritten (double-spaced) on 8 1/2 x 11 inch (21.5 x 28 cm) or size A4 paper, with margins of at least 1 inch (2.5 cm). One original and three photocopies of the entire manuscript should be submitted along with 4 sets of photographs. Manuscripts must be accompanied by a covering letter signed by the author and all co-authors. All Case Reports must include at least one figure.

Arabic Text: An Arabic translation must be submitted for: (1) title of the article, (2) each authors' name and affiliation, (3) abstracts. The Arabic translation must be provided in both hard (print) and soft (disk) copy.

Title Page: The title page must contain (1) title of the article in Arabic and English, (2) correct first name, middle initial and family name of each author plus highest degrees, not more than 2, in that specific order (3) arabic translation for all authors names (4) any disclaimers, and (5) a short running title of no more than 40 characters (count letters and spaces). The second page should include IN ENGLISH AND ARABIC (1) name and address of the department(s) and institution(s) from where the research was carried out for each author; affiliation address should be a record of where an author is currently working. If the study was previously carried out at another institute this should appear as "formerly of" (2) current position and affiliation address for the corresponding author and (3) name, address, telephone number, fax number and E-mail address of author to whom correspondence should be sent if it differs from the first author. Review articles should consist of one or 2 authors, only Clinical Review or Meta-analysis may include multiple authors. Case Reports should preferably not exceed 4 authors.

Abstracts: Abstracts in Arabic and English for Review articles and Case reports should be unstructured of not more than 150 words. All original articles must contain a structured abstract of not more than 250 words and a structured Arabic abstract should also be provided. The following are typical headings: Objectives (background), Methods (settings, design), including where and when the study took place, Results, Conclusion.

Authors should write their Arabic summaries using terms according to the Unified Medical Dictionary (Council of Arab Ministers of Health/WHO/Arab Medical Union ALESCO, 3rd ed).

Introduction: The introductory section of Case Reports should always include the objective and reason why the author is presenting this case.

Methods: In studies of diagnostic accuracy, the methods section should include the inclusion and exclusion criteria of patients involved in the study together with information on patient recruitment.

Tables: Tables should be double spaced on a separate sheet of paper. Number tables consecutively in the order of their first citation in the text and supply a brief title for each. Give each column a short or abbreviated heading. Place explanatory matter in footnotes, not in the heading.

References: References should be numbered consecutively in the order in which they are first mentioned in the text, not alphabetically, and formatted according to Vancouver style. All references must be cited in the text or tables. Unpublished data and personal communications will not be accepted as references. Please try to avoid using conference papers or abstracts as references, these can only be allowed if published by journals included in Index Medicus or a well-known publishing company and are within one year from the submission date of the manuscript. Secondary references are not acceptable.

Ethical consent: All manuscripts reporting the results of experimental investigations involving human subjects should include a statement confirming the informed consent was obtained from each subject or subject's guardian, after approval of the experimental protocol by a local human ethics committee.

Permission to Reprint: Whenever a manuscript contains material (text, tables dosages, figures etc.) which is protected by copyright, it is the obligation of the author to secure written permission from the holder of the copyright.

Galley Proofs & Reprints: The research team of any study should assign one of the authors as the corresponding author. The Editorial Office will send proofs of the manuscript to the corresponding author for final proof reading and it will be the responsibility of the corresponding author to return the galley proof materials appropriately corrected within the stipulated time, proofs will not be accepted from any other of the authors without an accompanying authorization letter from the corresponding author. After the corresponding author has signed the galley proof, they will bear the burden of responsibility for any publication errors missed on the galley proof found after publication. No major changes such as deletion, shortening or expansion of sentences in the text will be accepted at this time. The corresponding author(s) is required to sign on each page of the galley proof indicating their approval of any Editorial amendments and agree that the meaning of their article has not been altered. It is the duty of the corresponding author to respond promptly to any query from the Editing Department as failure to do so may result not only in delay of the article but also return of the article to the author without publication. Papers will be published only when the finally accepted manuscript signed by the corresponding author or designated corresponding author is received in the Editorial Office. If a manuscript is sent out for proofing and no response is received from the corresponding author, this manuscript will be deferred for one issue only. The proof will then be resent after one month and if there is still no response from the corresponding author at that time the paper may be withdrawn from the Journal. Information for ordering re-prints will be included when sending the galley proof.
